Block 21 / Section 21 Denman Prospect

Simple in its brief and simple in its execution yet this home demands your attention. Over 24 squares in the old terms of family fun is provided in 'the entertainer'. The centrally located alfresco provides a hub for the family events and takes the load of the usual focus of the home, the kitchen.

Provision of both a formal lounge room and big family meals areas will provide flexibility for entertaining or quiet times and the break out room or games area is the kids domain so stay away from there.

The clear delineation between the living areas and the bedroom zone will enhance quality of life and allows study and enjoyment to be neatly separated. All the bedrooms have ample storage and the room sizes are enormous because of the clever design.

When you take the time to examine the façade, the design, and the overall amenity of this home it is great in its execution and value for money. This family home looks the goods and has all the features at an affordable price and the location is just the ticket to complete the puzzle that is finding a new home.
